AMAZE early childhood - Social and Emotional Domain only - must be bundled with other tools	AMAZE ranges from $1,600.00- $3,100.00. Price as of 08/12/2015		X	AMAZE early childhood delivers practical, classroom tools, and staff development helping adults engage children (PreK and K) in respectful, meaningful discussions around differences and bias. Bias is a major driver for bullying, and research shows that children begin experimenting with bias and bullying in the preschool years. Discussing bias can be daunting for adults, and tools and training to lead these discussions have been lacking. AMAZE delivers a complete program providing tools, training, and support to lead respectful, meaningful discussions and activities that address bias as it develops. AMAZE. (2015). Between the Lions - Language and Literacy Domain only - must be bundled with other tools	WGBH Educational Foundation and Sirius Thinking Ltd.; Free online program Price as of 08/12/2015		X	Our mission at Between the Lions is to show children the tremendous power and pleasure of literacy, and to provide instruction in the skills that will help them learn to read well. Based on recommendations from leading reading experts, many of the episodes of Between the Lions follow a whole-part-whole approach to instruction in early literacy. This approach establishes a meaningful context for learning, and then guides kids to explore specific details such as text structure, individual words, and other print features (Strickland, 1998). Knowledge becomes anchored and accessible, the skills make more sense, and young children understand why they need to practice them. WGBH/Sirius Thinking. (2015). Curriculum Overview. Opening the World of Learning (OWL)	Price ranges from $669.47 to $3,100.00, depending on items selected Price as of 2/6/19		X	Opening the World of Learning is a comprehensive pre-K curriculum, equitable in English and Spanish. OWL prepares children for Kindergarten with ongoing assessment of research-based success predictors and playful, purposeful, and personalized instruction. OWL is based upon the belief that immersion in a learning-rich, pre-K environment is critical but not sufficient. The environment and interactions must be thoughtful and purposeful. All parts of the day should be considered opportunities for learning, and the teacher should know the curriculum content, instructional strategies, and individual children well enough to be responsive in a variety of situations. Through the use of essential questions, teachers help children connect content to their experiences, which takes them beyond rote learning and leads to thoughtful, reflective learning. Pearson Education, Inc. Program for Infant and Toddler Care (PITC)	Four Curriculum Units: Social-Emotional Growth and Socialization, Group Care, Learning and Development, and Culture, Family, and Providers; Price for complete set of curriculum units range from $207.90 to $350.90 Price as of 08/12/2015	X		The Program for Infant/Toddler Care (PITC) approach equates good care with trained infant/toddler care teachers who are preparing themselves and the environment so that infants can learn. For care to be good, it must explore ways to help infant/toddler care teachers get "in tune" with each infant they serve and learn from the individual infant what he or she needs, thinks, and feels. We believe infant care should be based on relationship planning -- not lesson planning -- and should emphasize child-directed learning over adult-directed learning. Rather than detailing specific lessons for infant/toddler care teachers to conduct with infants, the PITC approach shows infant/toddler care teachers ways of helping infants learn the lessons that every infant comes into the world eager to learn. WestEd.
